PRICING AUDIT & IMPLEMENTATION PLAN

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This document is a comprehensive audit of PracticePro's current pricing tiers, gating logic, and conversion architecture. The assessment covers Vega (legal), Atrium (property), and Komplete (unified) across six dimensions: naming clarity, billing flexibility, tier gaps, bundle economics, usage limits, and gating psychology.

The bottom line: your pricing is structurally sound but conversion-hostile. Three changes will move the needle most:

- Monthly Atrium option -- removes the single biggest barrier to entry for Nigerian SMEs
- Fix Komplete -- make it unlimited seats and a true no-brainer bundle
- Soft gating -- never let a rent reminder fail to send because of a billing issue

CRITICAL RISK: The 'Core' naming collision (Vega Core = FREE, Atrium Core = N150,000/yr) will cause chargebacks and trust erosion. Fix before launch.

WHAT'S GOOD

Keep these elements -- they work.

Vega Free Tier

Solo lawyers can get hooked. 10 matters is tight enough to create upgrade pressure but loose enough to demonstrate real value.

Vega Growth at N45,000/mo

Priced correctly for the Nigerian market. A 5-lawyer firm can afford this without CFO approval.

Atrium Core at N150,000/yr

Per-unit cost of N15,000/year is genuinely competitive against the hidden cost of manual Excel reconciliation + WhatsApp chasing.

Add-on Flexibility

Extra seats and storage let users grow without jumping tiers immediately. Reduces churn from sticker shock.

Sentry Pass as Add-on

Smart unbundling. Not every property manager needs VMS. Trial-to-paid is the right model.

Annual Discount on Vega

20% discount (N540K to N432K) is compelling without being desperate. Creates genuine urgency.

WHAT'S CONFUSING

Fix these before launch or they will silently kill conversions.

1. The 'Core' Naming Collision

Vega Core = FREE. Atrium Core = N150,000/yr. Same word, opposite meanings. A user browsing both products will assume Atrium Core is also free. This is a chargeback, support ticket, and trust-breaking moment waiting to happen.

FIX: Rename Vega 'Core' to 'Free'. Rename Atrium 'Core' to 'Starter' or 'Essential'. Never use the same tier name across products with different price points.

2. Atrium Is Annual-Only (Massive Barrier)

A property manager with 10 units is a small operator. Asking for N150,000 upfront before they've collected a single rent payment through your platform is a huge psychological barrier. Nigerian SMEs are cash-flow sensitive.

FIX: Offer monthly Atrium plans at a 20% premium: Starter N15,000/mo (N180K/yr), Growth N35,000/mo (N420K/yr), Pro N200,000/mo (N2.4M/yr). Let them trial monthly, then nudge to annual with a 'Save 20%' badge.

3. The Atrium Growth to Pro Cliff

N350,000/yr to N2,100,000/yr. That is a 6x jump. What about the property manager with 30 units? Or 50? They're either overpaying for Growth (cramming 30 units into 25) or forced into Pro at N2.1M. There is no middle ground.

FIX: Add a 'Business' tier between Growth and Pro: N850,000/yr, 75 units, 100 tenants, 2,000 WhatsApp/mo. Or remove unit limits entirely and price by portfolio size bands with clear overage rules.

4. Complete Makes No Mathematical Sense

Komplete: N2.5M/yr, 10 seats, all features.

Buying separately: Vega Pro (N720K/yr, unlimited users) + Atrium Pro (N2.1M/yr, unlimited units) = N2.82M/yr.

So Komplete 'saves' N320K. BUT Komplete caps you at 10 seats while individual Pro tiers are unlimited. For a 15-person diversified firm, buying separately is cheaper AND better. Komplete should be the no-brainer bundle. Right now it is a trap.

FIX: Komplete should be N2.2M/yr (slight discount from separate), unlimited seats (or at least 25), all add-ons included (Sentry Pass, extra storage). Position as: 'Everything. Everyone. One price.'

5. WhatsApp Message Limits Are Invisible Handcuffs

Atrium Core: 100 messages/mo. For 15 tenants, that is ~6 messages per tenant per month. One rent reminder, one receipt, one demand notice, one maintenance update = 4 messages. Add a lease renewal = 5. You are already at the limit. But users do not see this until they hit the wall. Then they are angry.

FIX: Show a WhatsApp usage meter in the dashboard (like a data plan). At 80% usage, show a soft warning. Consider making Core 250 messages (more forgiving) or unlimited SMS fallback when WhatsApp hits the cap.

6. The 10 Units / 15 Tenants Mismatch

10 units but 15 tenants implies shared occupancy. Most Nigerian property managers think in units, not tenants. A 3-bedroom flat with 3 roommates = 1 unit, 3 tenants. But the manager cares about the unit.

FIX: Lead with UNITS as the primary limit. Show tenant count as secondary context: '10 units (up to 15 tenants).'

7. Seat Add-Ons vs Tier Upgrades -- The Math Problem

Vega Growth: 5 users, N45K/mo. Add 5 seats = N20K/mo. Total: N65K/mo for 10 users.

Vega Pro: Unlimited users, N75K/mo.

At 10 users, the user is paying N65K and should just pay N75K for unlimited. The add-on creates a perverse incentive where your own pricing argues against itself.

FIX: Either make the 5-seat add-on N30K/mo (so 10 users = N75K, same as Pro -- makes Pro the obvious choice), OR cap add-ons at 1x per tier (max 10 users on Growth), forcing the upgrade at 11 users.

8. No Support Differentiation by Tier

Do Core users get email support? 48-hour response? WhatsApp support? Live chat? This is a huge factor in Nigerian B2B buying decisions.

FIX: Add support tiers: Free/Core = Email, 48hr. Growth = Email + WhatsApp, 24hr. Pro = Priority WhatsApp + phone, 4hr. Enterprise = Dedicated account manager.

9. Storage Is Abstract

1GB (Vega Core), 20GB (Growth), 100GB (Pro). Users do not know how much storage they need. A single scanned PDF brief can be 5MB. 1GB = ~200 documents. That is not much for a lawyer.

FIX: Show storage in document equivalents: 1GB ~ 200 documents, 20GB ~ 4,000 documents, 100GB ~ 20,000 documents.

10. 'Active Matters' Needs Definition

Vega Core: 10 active matters. What happens when matter #11 starts? Does #1 get archived? Is there a grace period?

FIX: Clarify in the UI: '10 active matters at a time. Archive closed matters to free up slots.' Show a counter: '7 of 10 active matters used.'

WHAT'S DANGEROUS

These will actively lose customers and damage trust.

DANGER: Sentry Pass Hard Gate After Trial

Resident generates a code, trial expires, code does not work, gatekeeper turns away a guest at 10pm. Angry resident calls the property manager. Property manager calls you. This is a trust-destroying moment.

FIX: Implement a 7-day grace period after trial expiry with soft warnings. Do not hard-block immediately. The resident's guest should never be stranded because of a billing issue.

DANGER: No Monthly Atrium Option

Competitors (Excel + WhatsApp) are 'free.' Your cheapest option is N150K upfront. That is a massive leap of faith for a Nigerian SME with cash-flow concerns.

FIX: Monthly option at 20% premium. Remove the upfront barrier. Let them prove value first.

DANGER: Complete Seat Cap

A 12-person firm does the math, realizes separate Pro tiers are better, and buys nothing. Or worse, they buy separately and you lose the bundle premium.

FIX: Unlimited seats on Complete. Make it mathematically impossible to beat.

DANGER: WhatsApp Overage = Hard Stop

Rent reminder does not send on the 31st. Tenant does not pay. Property manager blames you. This is a core-value failure.

FIX: Soft cap with SMS fallback, or auto-upgrade with 24-hour notice. Never silently fail to send a rent reminder.

DANGER: Annual-Only = No Refund Path

Nigerian buyers are skeptical. If they pay N150K and hate it in week 2, they want their money back. Without a guarantee, they will not buy.

FIX: 30-day money-back guarantee on annual plans. This removes the risk and increases conversion.

GATING POINTS REDESIGN

From hard blocks to soft nudges.

Your current gating is too binary: works or does not work. Here is a softer, more conversion-friendly approach that preserves trust while driving upgrades.

1. Soft Limits with Progressive Warnings

- 80% usage: Yellow banner -- 'You are approaching your limit. Upgrade to avoid interruption.'
- 100% usage: Red banner -- 'Limit reached. You have 7 days to upgrade before [feature] pauses.'
- 110% usage: Soft block with override -- 'You have exceeded your limit. [Upgrade now] or [Contact support for a one-time extension].'

WHY THIS WORKS: Nigerian users are relationship-driven. A hard block feels like a betrayal. A grace period with a human override option feels like partnership.

2. Feature Teasers

For locked features, show them grayed out with a tooltip:

'Advanced analytics -- Available on Growth and above. [Upgrade]'

This creates aspiration without frustration. Users see what they are missing and understand the path to unlock it.

3. Sentry Pass Grace Period

- Day 1-14: Full access (trial)
- Day 15-21: Grace period -- codes still work, banner shows: 'Sentry Pass trial expired. Upgrade within 7 days to keep access.'
- Day 22: Hard block -- but with a 'Reactivate' one-click flow

NEVER STRAND A GUEST: A resident's visitor being turned away at the gate because of a billing issue is a trust-destroying event. The property manager will blame you, not their own subscription status.

4. WhatsApp Overage Handling

- Hit 100% of limit: Messages queue for next billing cycle OR auto-upgrade to next tier with 24-hour approval window
- Send a dashboard notification: 'Your WhatsApp message limit has been reached. Your rent reminder will send when your limit resets in 3 days, or upgrade now to send immediately.'
- Never silently fail to send a rent reminder. That is a core-value failure.

5. Matter Limit Handling (Vega)

- At 9 of 10 matters: 'You have 1 active matter slot remaining. Archive closed matters to free up space, or upgrade to Growth for unlimited matters.'
- At 10 of 10 matters: 'Matter limit reached. You can still view and edit existing matters. To create new matters, archive closed ones or upgrade to Growth.'
- Never delete or hide existing matters. That is user data.

IMPLEMENTATION CHECKLIST

What your app builder should do, in order.

Phase 1: Naming & Structure (Week 1)

- Rename Vega 'Core' to 'Free' across all UI, emails, and landing pages
- Rename Atrium 'Core' to 'Starter' across all UI, emails, and landing pages
- Add monthly billing option for Atrium (20% premium over annual/12)
- Add 'Business' tier for Atrium between Growth and Pro: N850,000/yr, 75 units, 100 tenants, 2,000 WhatsApp/mo
- Fix Komplete: unlimited seats, N2.2M/yr, all add-ons included
- Update all pricing copy across landing page, app, and checkout

Phase 2: UI/UX Clarity (Week 1-2)

- Add usage meters to dashboard: matters, units, storage, WhatsApp messages
- Show 'X of Y used' counters on all limited resources
- Add soft warnings at 80% capacity with clear upgrade CTA
- Add 7-day grace periods before all hard blocks
- Show per-unit and per-user costs in pricing cards
- Show storage in document equivalents (1GB ~ 200 docs)

Phase 3: Support Differentiation (Week 2)

- Add support tier badges to pricing cards
- Implement support routing based on tier in help desk
- Add response time SLAs to dashboard settings page

Phase 4: Trust & Conversion (Week 2)

- Add 30-day money-back guarantee badge to annual plan CTAs
- Add 'Save X%' badges to annual billing toggle
- Add comparison table: Komplete vs Separate vs Competitors
- Add WhatsApp click-to-chat CTA on pricing page
- Add pricing-specific FAQ accordion

Phase 5: Gating Logic (Week 3)

- Implement soft limits with warning banners in dashboard
- Implement grace periods for all hard gates (Sentry Pass, WhatsApp, matters, units)
- Add feature teaser UI for locked features (grayed out with upgrade tooltip)
- Add auto-upgrade flow with 24-hour approval window for overages
- Test all gating scenarios end-to-end: trial expiry, limit hit, grace period, hard block

THE BOTTOM LINE

Your pricing is not terrible -- it is structurally sound but conversion-hostile. The annual-only Atrium entry, the Komplete seat cap, the 'Core' naming collision, and the hard gating will quietly kill more deals than a buggy checkout.

Fix the three highest-impact items (monthly Atrium, Komplete unlimited seats, soft gating) and you will see conversion improve within one billing cycle.
